We would like to dedicate our work to all children out there who are learning what it means to be kind. It was difficult putting ourselves in the shoes of the kids (even though we have been that age before), and brainstorming how we could best tell them what kindness means.

We think it is more important that we learn to show, and in return, experience kindness.

THE WORLD NEEDS IT.

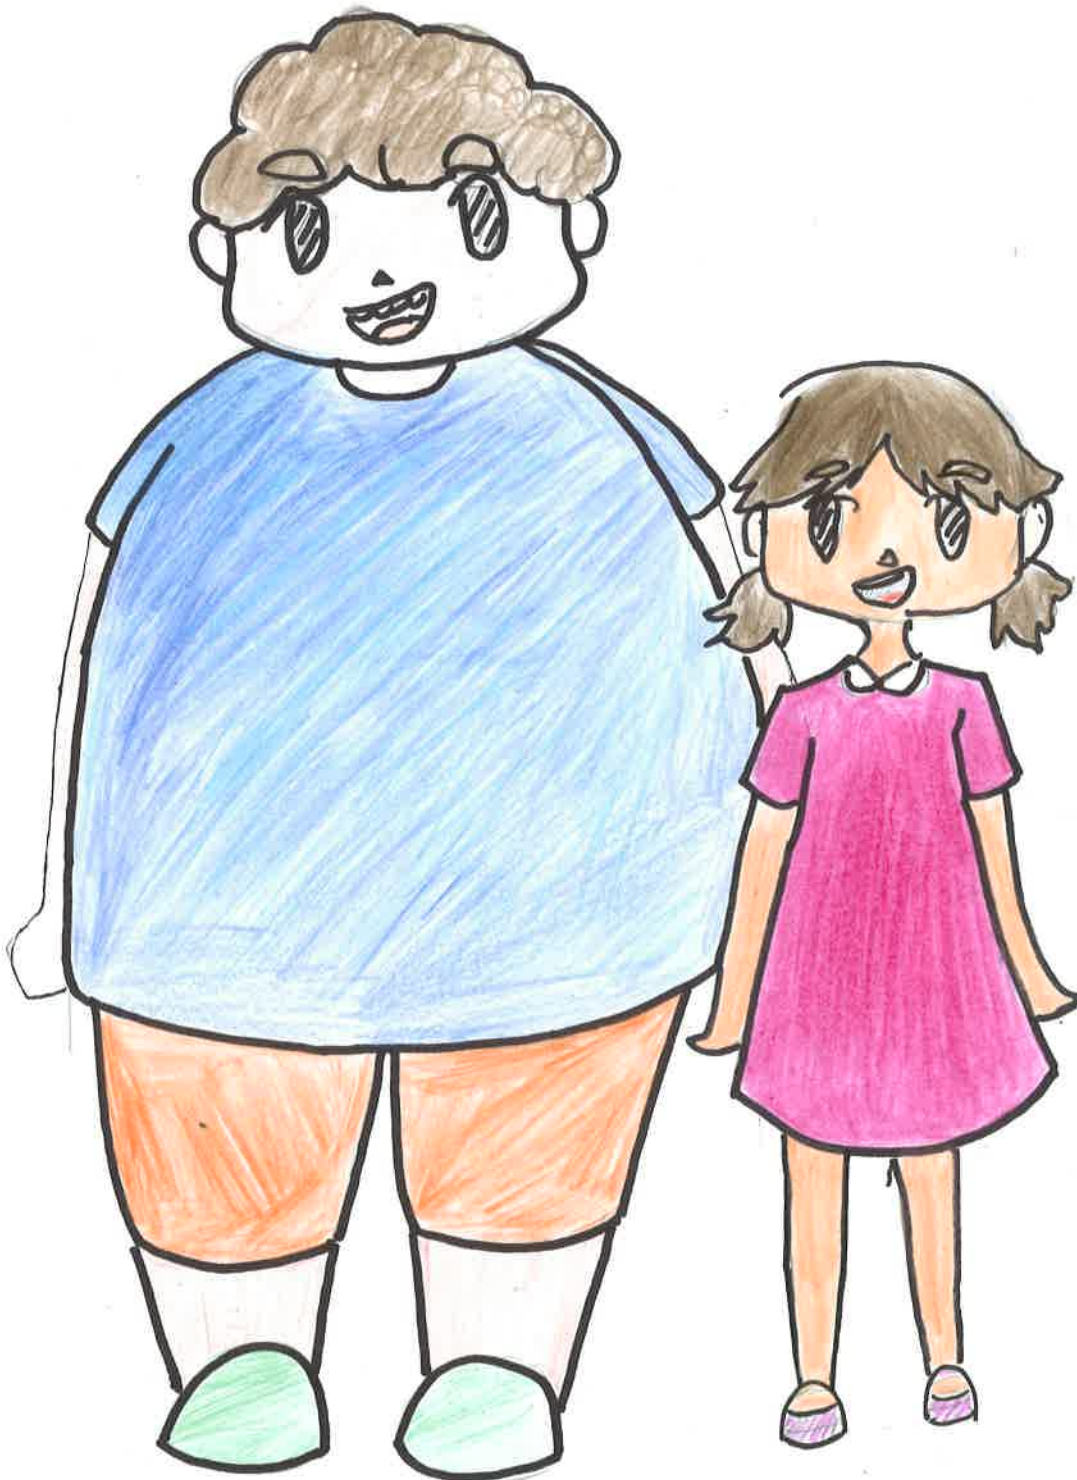

This is Bob.

This is Amy.

Bob and Amy
are friends.

What do friends do

Friends
help one another.

Friends play together.

Friends share with one another.

GIVE ME
YOUR LUNCH!

OR ELSE!

CRACK

CRACK

Please don't!
I didn't eat all day!

Friends laugh with one another.

A good friend can make a difference.

The page is decorated with numerous yellow stars of various sizes, scattered across the white background, primarily concentrated around the edges.

Meet Bob and Amy.

These two friends are here
to teach young children
what friendship means.

Follow them through different situations to find out what being a kind friend involves – caring, sharing, playing and having fun together.
