

Ms Ismath

Language shapes thought, expression, and connection. As Subject Head, I empower students to become confident, self-directed communicators who engage meaningfully with the world. Language and Literature are more than just subjects—they are tools for agency and advocacy. By igniting students' voices and reasoning, I empower them to shape the world with empathy and conviction.

SH Literature

York Hill
Campus

Teaching Subjects: English Literature/
English

Learners for Life. Leaders of Integrity. Contributors with Compassion.