

Mr Liu Pengcheng

I believe that education is most impactful when students feel a strong sense of connection with their teachers. By building rapport and leading by example, I aim to create a learning environment where values are not only taught but lived. I see every lesson and experience—whether in the classroom, on the sports court, or during co-curricular activities—as an opportunity to develop character, resilience, and empathy. My goal is to nurture students holistically, equipping them with the competencies and values to thrive as lifelong learners and contributing members of society.
