

Ms Serene Wong

Teaching is a “HEART-Filling” craft. I see students not as clay to be molded, but as co-makers—porcelain in the making—shaped with patience, fired to strength, and, when cracked, repaired with care like kintsugi. My aim is to cultivate a deep appreciation for the visual arts and to use art as a bridge across disciplines. Through this work, students develop habits of mind, enduring values, and character so they can thrive and contribute meaningfully to their own lives and to society.

Teacher

Anchorvale
Campus

Teaching Subject: Art

Learners for Life. Leaders of Integrity. Contributors with Compassion.