

Mr Wee Teck Lee

I believe the aim of education is to develop a person holistically. Individuals, through experiences garnered from the classroom and beyond, can impact their outlook and aspirations in the coming years when they step out of the school gate.

That is why the individual, through the years in school, must discover his/her strengths and weaknesses, and harness such capacities to learn, and to grow from strength to strength through failures and successes.

Teacher

York Hill
Campus

Teaching Subject: Physical Education

Learners for Life. Leaders of Integrity. Contributors with Compassion.